

It is our pleasure to send you information below regarding available dates for LIVE, in-person shows of internationally and US-based companies for summer, 2021 and the 21/22 season. For these live tour dates, we are working from the perspective that many current barriers are going to be behind us (closed borders, quarantines, shutdowns). And, we recognize that everyone does not have the same capacity to start planning for live performances. To that end, we look forward to the day when all of us can gather audiences once again. (You can find information about our pandemic programming here: <https://www.elsieman.org/pandemic/>)
